

UNLOCKING NEW POTENTIAL

The Daphne Jackson Trust enables talented professionals to return to a research support career after a break.

New Daphne Jackson Research Support Fellowships

The Daphne Jackson Trust has launched a new Research Support Fellowship that offers a unique opportunity for anyone working in a research support role to refresh their skills and knowledge.

They allow technicians, technologists, lab assistants, analysts, machine specialists or similar, in any form of research to return to their careers while furthering your company's aims.

Why Sponsor a Daphne Jackson Research Support Fellow:

- 1 Address skills shortages by providing opportunities for those with specific skills and experiences that meet your needs.
- 2 Contribute towards your organisation's equality, diversity and inclusion aims and demonstrate 'how' you are doing this.
- 3 Save years' worth of time, experience and training by helping a motivated returner refresh existing skills.
- 4 Fellowships are individually tailored to meet your requirements.
- 5 Work with us - a trusted partner who has returned nearly 500 researchers to their careers over the last 30 years.

What Sponsorship involves:

Provide a key opportunity for a highly skilled individual to return to their career after a break.

Sponsorship involves paying the Fellow's salary, their retraining expenses and Fellowship support costs. We will work with you to find the right candidate for the right role.

Make a Difference: Sponsor Research Support Fellowships to allow talented professionals to meet their full potential.
