What is TechBio Boost?

Now in its third year, TechBio Boost is a growth programme supporting Seed and pre-Series A companies working at the intersection of biology, data and advanced technologies.

Delivered by the BioIndustry Association in partnership with KQ Labs, the programme connects ambitious founders with investors, mentors and senior leaders from across the UK TechBio ecosystem.

Programme highlights

- Tailored mentoring from experienced industry leaders and operators
- Tailored support projects designed to help companies address key scaling challenges and unlock new opportunities
- Curated networking events connecting founders with the wider ecosystem
- The Retreat – a 24-hour leadership experience featuring workshops, fireside chats, CEO roundtables and informal networking
- Demo Day – a showcase event connecting cohort companies with investors, partners and industry stakeholders
- TechBio UK – access to the UK's flagship TechBio conference convening 400+ attendees from across the ecosystem

Why sponsor TechBio Boost?

TechBio Boost gives sponsors direct access to high-potential early-stage companies and the wider UK TechBio ecosystem.

Sponsors can:

- Build early relationships with emerging founders, CEOs and future sector leaders
- Increase visibility within a highly connected innovation network
- Engage directly with companies developing cutting-edge biotech and data-driven technologies
- Connect with investors, strategic partners and ecosystem stakeholders through programme events and touchpoints
- Position their organisation alongside innovation, entrepreneurship and sector growth

TechBio Boost offers meaningful engagement with the talent, ideas and companies driving the next wave of UK TechBio innovation.
